

License Agreement for Digital Game Content

Bristle and Broadsword

§ 1 Subject Matter and Scope

This License Agreement governs the use of digital game content made available free of charge by Bristle and Broadsword, hereinafter referred to as the "Licensor".

This includes, in particular, game rules, quickstart rules, STL files for 3D printing, and, where applicable, other associated digital content.

Use is permitted exclusively within the scope of the following provisions. Uses permitted by law remain unaffected.

§ 2 Grant of Usage Rights

The Licensor grants users a non-exclusive, non-transferable, royalty-free license to use the digital content provided, within the scope described below.

In particular, the following activities are permitted:

1. Downloading, storing, and using the files for private, non-commercial purposes.
2. Printing the provided STL files to produce miniatures for personal use.
3. Commissioning a commercial 3D printing service provider to produce miniatures for personal use. The service provider may charge a fee for this service but may not produce additional copies for its own commercial distribution.
4. Painting and individually customizing the produced miniatures.
5. The occasional transfer and sale of individually painted miniatures, including for payment.

The serial production and distribution of miniatures based on the provided STL files, as well as the sale of unpainted prints or prints produced solely for resale, are not permitted.

§ 3 Commercial Use

Commercial exploitation of the original digital content provided is generally prohibited unless expressly permitted by this Agreement.

In particular, the following activities are prohibited:

1. Selling or licensing the original digital files for a fee.
2. Commercial distribution of unpainted or mass-produced miniatures.
3. Commercial exploitation of the original files or digital models derived from them without the Licensor's prior consent.

The 3D printing services expressly permitted under § 2 and the sale of individually painted miniatures remain unaffected.

§ 4 Sharing and Distribution

The free distribution of the quickstart rules is expressly permitted.

Users may share and publicly distribute the unmodified quickstart rules and the associated STL files free of charge, provided that all copyright notices and license information are retained.

Sharing and linking to the official download page is expressly encouraged.

The sale of digital files and the provision of the quickstart package for a fee are prohibited.

§ 5 Editing and Modification

Modification of the STL files for private purposes is permitted.

This includes, in particular:

1. Scaling and size adjustments.
2. Adding or removing support structures.
3. Technical modifications necessary for 3D printing.
4. Individual creative modifications for personal use.

The publication, distribution, or commercial exploitation of modified STL files is prohibited without the Licensor's prior consent.

Users may create and publish their own house rules, scenarios, game aids, and fan-made expansions free of charge. In doing so, they may not reproduce protected texts, illustrations, or other content belonging to the Licensor beyond what is permitted by law or under this License.

§ 6 Presentation on Social Media

The publication of photographs and videos of produced, painted, or individually customized miniatures is permitted.

This also applies to publications on commercially operated or monetized platforms, including YouTube, Twitch, and comparable services.

Such publications must not create the false impression that the respective content was officially created, supported, or authorized by the Licensor.

§ 7 Copyright

Copyright in the provided content remains with the respective copyright holders.

Bristle and Broadsword is entitled to grant the usage rights described in this Agreement insofar as the relevant content is covered by this License.

Only the usage rights expressly stated in this Agreement are granted. No copyright ownership is transferred.

§ 8 Liability

The provided STL files are intended for use in 3D printing. Responsibility for the proper setup and safe execution of the printing process lies with the respective user or the commissioned 3D printing service provider.

The Licensor shall be fully liable in cases of intentional misconduct and gross negligence, as well as for damages resulting from injury to life, body, or health, insofar as these result from a breach of duty attributable to the Licensor.

In cases of slight negligence involving the breach of essential contractual obligations, liability shall be limited to foreseeable damages typical for the contract. In all other cases, liability for slight negligence is excluded to the extent permitted by law.

Mandatory statutory liability provisions remain unaffected.

§ 9 Condition and Warranty

The digital content is provided free of charge and in its respective state of development at the time of provision.

In particular, quickstart rules and STL files may contain errors, omissions, or technical incompatibilities.

The Licensor does not provide any warranty beyond its statutory obligations regarding freedom from errors, permanent availability, compatibility with all 3D printers, or suitability for a particular purpose.

Mandatory statutory rights of users remain unaffected.

§ 10 Use Outside the Scope of the License

Any use exceeding the rights granted under this Agreement requires the Licensor's prior consent, unless such use is already permitted by law.

In the event of a material breach of the license terms, the Licensor may terminate the granted usage rights for good cause. Where required, the user shall first be given the opportunity to remedy the breach within a reasonable period.

Further statutory claims remain unaffected.

§ 11 Final Provisions

This Agreement shall be governed by German law, without prejudice to mandatory consumer protection provisions of the country in which the user has their habitual residence.

Should individual provisions of this Agreement be invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall remain unaffected, unless otherwise stipulated by law. Invalid provisions shall be replaced by the applicable statutory provisions.
